

Lexi never thought she'd end up in a relationship with Nick. After all, as a real estate developer threatening to modernize her beloved Biltmore Village, he was the personification of all she despised. And despite the fact that his proposal would have brought more people into that part of the city of Asheville, North Carolina, giving her quaint, homemade candy shop a chance to finally succeed, she didn't want anything to do with him or his plans. In fact, she hated him for even trying to impose his high-rises and parking complexes on what she and so many others held so dear. But somehow they'd gotten past all of that. They had fallen in love. And things were going surprisingly great. Until now... Nick has received an offer for his dream job. Unfortunately, it happens to be based in Chicago and, while Lexi would never allow him to turn it down after all he'd already sacrificed for her, she simply cannot ever see herself closing her shop and leaving her home. So, after all they've gone through to make their relationship work, this may be the end for Nick & Lexi. That is, unless one of them is willing to give up everything they've spent their lives working for; in Nick's case, for the second time.
