

What would happen to your pets tomorrow if you were hit by a bus today? You need to make plans now to arrange for your pets future care should fate unfortunately get in your way. Of course, its unpleasant to think about your own demise, but its even worse to consider where your beloved animals would end up if you were to suddenly disappear from their lives. Even if youve already asked your friends or family to take care of your pets, theres much more to consider, including financial support, wills and trusts, and all of those little personality quirks your pets next caretaker should know about. Youll find all this and more in the book PerPETual Care: Who Will Look After Your Pets If You're Not Around? As our population ages, this scenario is bound to increase. Perhaps youve already found yourself in a similar situation, when a relative or friend suddenly died and it was up to you to find a new home for the animals left behind without concrete plans from the deceased owner. Or maybe you know you should do something, but youre not certain about what you could do. PerPETual Care: Who Will Look After Your Pets If You're Not Around? will tell you everything you need to know
